

BEATS, PLANTS & PLATES

Good food. Good music. A stronger everyday rhythm.

RoSeé Murphy · AskDoGood

REVIEW EDITION

WELCOME TO THE KITCHEN

Good food. Good music. Room to live.

This is an original AskDoGood collection for people who want a useful meal, a little culture, and a rhythm that fits real life. Most recipes are plant-based, with one optional fish track. You do not have to adopt a label to cook something good.

Hip-hop gives this book its language: opening tracks, basslines, remixes, call-and-response, and the cypher. The artist notes show documented connections between music, food, and self-care. The recipes are original concepts, not recipes supplied, eaten, approved, or endorsed by those artists.

About this edition: This is a complete written review draft, not a kitchen-tested commercial release. Ingredient amounts, yields, and timings need cooking trials before sale. Nutrition totals have not been calculated. Cover food imagery is a creative illustration, not a photograph of a tested recipe.

Use the ingredient lists as written for the first trial, then record the changes that work for you. Check every packaged ingredient for allergens. For medical diets or conditions, get guidance from your own qualified care team.

RoSeé Murphy / AskDoGood
Good food. Good people. Better days.

TRACK 02

The Bassline Bowl

Roasted Chickpeas, Brown Rice & Lemon-Tahini

SERVES 2 generous bowls / 35 minutes with cooked rice

A grain, a bean, a little crunch. Let the simple parts hold the groove.

THE INGREDIENTS

1 can (15 oz) chickpeas, drained and rinsed

1 tbsp olive oil

1/2 tsp smoked paprika

1/2 tsp ground cumin

2 cups cooked brown rice

2 cups baby spinach

1 cup finely shredded purple cabbage

1 avocado, sliced

2 tbsp tahini

2 tbsp lemon juice

2-4 tbsp water

Salt and black pepper, to taste

THE METHOD

1. Heat oven to 400 F. Pat chickpeas dry; toss with oil, paprika, cumin, and a little salt. Spread on a baking sheet.

2. Roast 20-25 minutes, stirring once, until lightly crisp outside.

3. Whisk tahini, lemon juice, and enough water to make a pourable dressing. Season to taste.

4. Divide rice, spinach, and cabbage between bowls. Add chickpeas and avocado. Drizzle with dressing.

THE REMIX

Use quinoa or a quick-cooking grain instead of rice. Sesame allergy? Replace tahini with plain dairy-free yogurt you can safely eat.

Allergen check: Sesame (tahini).

Kitchen note: Rice quantity is cooked, not dry. Refrigerate separate components promptly; slice avocado at serving.

TRACK 04

Call & Response

Black Bean-Cabbage Tacos

SERVES 2 (6 small tacos) / 20 minutes

Warm beans answer bright lime and crunchy cabbage.

THE INGREDIENTS

1 can (15 oz) black beans,
drained and rinsed

1 tsp olive oil

1/2 tsp cumin

1/2 tsp smoked paprika

3 tbsp water

6 small flour tortillas

1 cup shredded cabbage

1/2 cup diced tomatoes

1/2 avocado, diced

Juice of 1 lime

2 tbsp chopped cilantro
(optional)

Salt and pepper, to taste

THE METHOD

1. Heat oil in a small saucepan over medium heat. Add beans, spices, and water. Simmer 5-7 minutes; mash a few beans to thicken.

2. Toss cabbage, tomatoes, avocado, and lime juice in a bowl. Season lightly.

3. Warm tortillas according to package directions. Fill with beans and crunchy toppings; add cilantro if you like.

THE REMIX

Use lettuce cups or gluten-free tortillas instead of flour tortillas. Any leftover filling can become tomorrow's rice bowl.

Allergen check: Wheat in flour tortillas; check labels for other allergens.

Kitchen note: Store bean filling and cabbage topping separately. Add avocado when serving.

PREVIEW EDITION

Keep your next good step simple.

You have seen two original recipe drafts from a planned 12-recipe collection. The full review edition also includes artist context, kitchen notes, a practical shopping plan, and sources.

Release status: In development. Kitchen testing and release preparation remain. No paid cookbook order or preorder is being accepted through this preview.

Explore the cookbook preview page
Tell AskDoGood you are interested